Disclaimer

Medical policies are a set of written guidelines that support current standards of practice. They are based on current generally accepted standards of care developed by: nonprofit professional association(s) for the relevant clinical specialty, third-party entities that develop treatment criteria, or other federal or state governmental agencies. A requested therapy must be proven effective for the relevant diagnosis or procedure. For drug therapy, the proposed dose, frequency and duration of therapy must be consistent with recommendations in at least one authoritative source. This medical policy is supported by FDA-approved labeling and/or nationally recognized authoritative references to major drug compendia, peer reviewed scientific literature and generally accepted standards of medical care. These references include, but are not limited to: MCG care guidelines, DrugDex (IIa level of evidence or higher), NCCN Guidelines (IIb level of evidence or higher), NCCN Compendia (IIb level of evidence or higher), professional society guidelines, and CMS coverage policy.

Carefully check state regulations and/or the member contract.

Each benefit plan, summary plan description or contract defines which services are covered, which services are excluded, and which services are subject to dollar caps or other limitations, conditions or exclusions. Members and their providers have the responsibility for consulting the member's benefit plan, summary plan description or contract to determine if there are any exclusions or other benefit limitations applicable to this service or supply. If there is a discrepancy between a Medical Policy and a member's benefit plan, summary plan description or contract, the benefit plan, summary plan description or contract will govern.

Coverage

Review the following tables carefully:

Table 1: Includes those Category III Current Procedural Terminology (CPT®) codes that are not subject to review and/or are included in the Preventive Services Reimbursement Policy (formerly Clinical Payment and Coding Policy).

Table 2: Includes those Category III Current Procedural Terminology (CPT®) codes that may be conditionally medically necessary for some indications and are included in specific Medical Policy documents.

Table 3: Includes those Category III Current Procedural Terminology (CPT®) codes that are considered experimental, investigational and/or unproven as these codes are designed for data collection for emerging technologies, services, procedures, and service paradigms unless the code is included in either Table 1 OR Table 2 below.

Category III Current Procedural Terminology (CPT®) codes included in Table 3 below may be considered experimental, investigational and/or unproven as these codes are designed for data collection for emerging technologies, services, procedures, and service paradigms unless the code is included in either Table 1 OR Table 2 below.

NOTE 1: Changes may be made to the codes in the tables below as the American Medical Association (AMA) makes updates to the CPT® code set, and/or as new medical policies are developed to address those services described by these codes.

Description

CPT® Category III codes are a set of temporary (T) codes assigned to emerging technologies, services, and procedures. These codes are intended to be used for data collection to substantiate more widespread usage or to provide documentation for the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval process. Category III codes can be identified by the T alpha character that follows the four initial numerical digits (i.e., four digits followed by the letter T). These codes are also referred to as T Codes. (1)

The use of a Category III code allows physicians and other qualified health care professionals to identify emerging technologies, services and procedures for clinical efficacy, utilization and outcomes. Category III codes are generally archived after five years and may or may not eventually receive a Category I CPT code. If a specific cross-referenced Category I code has not been established at the time of archiving, the service or procedure will be reported with a Category I unlisted code. (1)

It is noted by the AMA that a service or procedure represented by a T code does not constitute a finding of support, or lack thereof with regard to clinical efficacy, safety, applicability or clinical practice. Typically, there is a lack of published, peer-review evidence supporting the clinical efficacy, safety, and applicability of these services to clinical practice nor are these services considered an established standard of care. (1)

Rationale

This policy is based on the American Medical Association (AMA) Current Procedural Terminology (CPT®) description of Category III (T) codes. (1)

Coding

Procedure codes on Medical Policy documents are included only as a general reference tool for each policy. They may not be all-inclusive.

The presence or absence of procedure, service, supply, or device codes in a Medical Policy document has no relevance for determination of benefit coverage for members or reimbursement for providers. Only the written coverage position in a Medical Policy should be used for such determinations.

Benefit coverage determinations based on written Medical Policy coverage positions must include review of the member's benefit contract or Summary Plan Description (SPD) for defined coverage vs. non-coverage, benefit exclusions, and benefit limitations such as dollar or duration caps.
